Pack Snapshot

- Buyer: Short-term rental hosts
- Category: Local Service
- Startup cost: $0-$50
- Time to first sale: 1-7 days
- Difficulty: Easy
- Positioning hook: Turn flat listing photos into bookable lifestyle scenes.

Asset objective

- Hosts already know photos drive clicks, but many listings feel empty, flat, or sterile. A strong before/after sample makes the value obvious before a sales call.
- Keep the promise concrete: Preserve the real property and amenities; sell ambience and lifestyle context, not misleading edits.
- Use this asset to create a buyer-ready deliverable, not as a generic brainstorming note.

Core checklist

- Listing photos are bright enough to understand the room within three seconds.
- The first five photos show the strongest room, sleeping setup, bathroom, kitchen/living area, and lifestyle context.
- Any AI edit preserves real property layout, amenities, views, room size, furniture, and access details.
- Lifestyle models are realistic adults and do not imply amenities, parties, views, or experiences the property cannot provide.
- Before/after samples are labelled as visual refresh concepts and approved by the host before publication.

- Every recommendation must be visible, actionable, and easy to explain.
- Remove anything that sounds impressive but does not change buyer behavior.

Delivery note

- Send the finished asset with a short summary of what changed.
- Include the next recommended step, the owner input needed, and the review deadline.
- Keep a copy of before/after evidence for renewals and follow-ups.

Delivery standards (shared)

- This asset is for short-term rental hosts; replace bracketed fields with their specifics before sending.
- Full delivery standards - inputs to collect, evidence capture, pricing and scope guardrails, and the pre-send QA list - live once in this pack's AI Prompt Pack.
- Verify every fact, price, date, hour, link, and claim against a source, and keep approvals in writing.
- Never imply guaranteed revenue, rankings, bookings, retention, or ad performance.
